JAMES ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL.

DEDICATION

to

James Archibald Campbell,
B. A., D. D.

As a little memento of our gratitude to him for the constant inspiration that his life has been to us during our school-days here at this institution which so deservedly bears his name, we, the students of Campbell College, do affectionately dedicate this, the 1927 volume of our annual.

PROLOGUE

Ho! classmates, teachers, and
our many friends:

Hark this our little drama:
"School-days"; I

Must play the prologue. All
the school's our stage,
And all our fellow students
merely players.

The curtain rises, and our memory 'gins

Recall old times!

IN MEMORIAM

D. RICH

On earth he walked, and the flowers of love and hope sprang up in his path, because he had walked therein. A call he heard—the call of children crying for the light, of Christ summoning the wandering ones—the call of an institution bearing the torch of Christian culture to those in darkness. And lo! Out of the darkness there came a flood of light. His sleepless eyes caught a vision of the future and the college that should be. "Buic's Creek Must Live," the prophet boldly penned, and he uttered a prayer and helped his prayer come true.

With a heart of love he planned and wrought. Ere the Master's summons came, he made concrete the ideal in his mind. The spirit of Holmes', "Build thee more stately mansions, O my soul," was ever his spirit; and today there does indeed a stately mansion rear its noble walls heavenward in his honor. We hope that his soul is in our midst; we know that his spirit is a daily inspiration to us to make our hearts and lives bigger and broader and better.

Book 1
Administration

*When all these shining leaves are fill'd,
How will the owner's heart be thrill'd,
On every opening leaf to find
Some tribute of affection kind,
Some token, some memorial dear
Of each lov'd friend concentr'd here;
And when those friends are far away,
Still here their semblance to survey,
And mark the image of each mind
In living colors well defin'd.*

—SELECTED.

*"Leaving us heirs to amplest heritages
Of all the best thoughts of the greatest sages."*

*"To live in hearts we leave behind
Is not to die—"*

"There's beauty all around our paths, if but our watchful eyes can trace it—"

*Away in the charm of the distance,
Old schoolhouse! A blessing on thee!*

"There's nothing ill can dwell in so fair a temple."

"Be still, and know that I am God."

*Enter into His gates with thanksgiving,
And into His courts with praise.*

College Class History

SINCE the opening of Buie's Creek Academy in January, 1887, many changes have taken place. August 31, 1926, marks a new era in the life of our institution, with the opening of the Junior College. Since that date, the name has been changed to Campbell College, as a just tribute to our beloved president, its founder.

In the fall of 1926, with eyes set upon a distant goal, the members of our class—the first college class of this institution—stepped in through the newly opened doors. It was indeed quite an honor bestowed upon us to have this privilege of being charter members of the college department of this growing institution. Yet along with the honor that this privilege brought, there came a challenge to each member of the class to make a record that will be hard for those who follow in our footsteps to equal or to surpass.

Only a short time elapsed before we saw the necessity of selecting from our number those who could lead us during this year. As soon as a wise selection could be made, from our enrollment of fifty, we chose Dewey Danner for president. For vice-president, Bernice Hardy was chosen. For secretary and treasurer, Katherine Bland and M. A. Williams, respectively, were chosen.

We do not wish any undue credit, but undoubtedly the publication of an Annual for the year 1927 is more or less due to our class. Seeing the need of such a publication, we immediately began to investigate the advisability of such an undertaking. After due consideration, we shouldered with the high school seniors the responsibility of sponsoring the Annual. From our class, Katherine Bland was chosen as editor-in-chief. In like manner, Littleton Todd serves as college editor; and M. A. Williams, as advertising manager.

It is interesting to note the success of a number of our class on the athletic field. In the line-up for the football team, half of the men were chosen from the college class. Six of the collegians, Bell, Hardy, Philips, Martin, McNeill, and Hawkins won their letters in football. An equally impressive record is being made in basket ball. It is not surprising that, with the support of such men, our school has had the most successful basket ball season in its history, winning seventeen out of twenty games.

A very interesting feature about our stay here thus far is that we have been permitted to live in peace. By virtue of being the first college class, we have missed the pranks that are generally played upon the freshmen by the upperclassmen. Some day, no doubt, we shall look back with great pride and tender memory to the honor we now have, of being the first students of Campbell College.

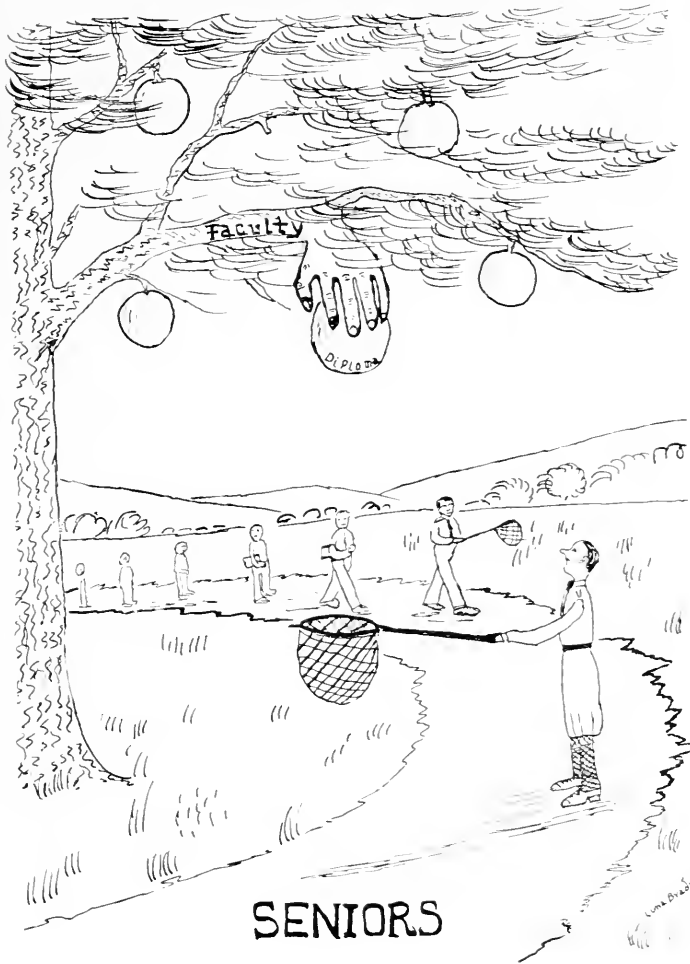

—HISTORIAN.

College Class Poem

*Poised between two goals
 We stand, waiting:
 Like the fleet Atalanta,
 We have stopped to snatch the golden apple of Learning,
 Gazing on our past,
 We see our life stretched out
 Behind us like a vast plain,
 In it are some high spots,
 Some low,
 We pass on, and as we do,
 It becomes less distinct
 And the future more clear,
 Our graduation, like some exotic tropical plant
 Which blooms only for a night, fades,
 Lies behind us,
 Around it center fond memories:
 Soon they will become less real,
 Be forgotten, save for an occasional reminder,
 In the future looms our coming Graduation,
 A giant Nemesis, to be dreaded, yet joyfully awaited,
 Poised between two goals, we stand
 Waiting to gain our Apple of Learning
 Ere we attempt to re-enter the race,
 A lap and a half before the finish,
 And then?*

IN MEMORIAM

WILLIAM BEAVERS HOLLOWAY

Born, August 31, 1907Died, April 17, 1926

A happy band of boys and girls, we sang, played, and dreamed together. No threatening clouds overshadowed our smiling heavens; peace reigned in youthful pleasures.

But as the evening turned into shadows a cry of anguish broke the spell. Despair benumbed our hearts. Could it be that our own classmate, so full of boyish sports, so happy, so promising, could be lost in the angry waves? Hoping against fate, we looked and called in vain. The waves had stolen our dear companion.

But he is not dead, though "sunk beneath the watery floor." Like the evergreen tree, his happy life grows in our memory and calls us to higher endeavor.

*"So Lycidas sunk low, but mounted high,
Through the dear night of Him that walked the waves."*

WILLIAM ADAMS, Phi.

Colerain, N. C.

Class Basket Ball Team, '27.

He is very quiet, is a hard worker, and a willing helper. He has many friends on the campus.

ALLIE LOURAE AUSTIN, Sappho

Willow Springs, N. C.

If sympathetic understanding, fidelity to duty, and high ideals count for anything, Lourae is sure to reach the top.

ELIZABETH AYSCEE, Sappho

Buie's Creek, N. C.

Tennis Club; Class Treasurer, '27; Creek Pebbles Staff, '27; Basket Ball Team, '26-'27.

"Lib" is almost six feet and her ideals are just as high. If she plays life's game as she does basket ball, she is sure to be a "winner."

EVERETT BAKER, Eu.

Raleigh, N. C.

Class Poet, '27.

He's our poet and he's our friend. We're glad you came to Buie's Creek, Everett. Here's wishing you success in life.

SPENCER BLANCHARD, Eu.

Wilmington, N. C.

Eu Improvement Medal, '23; Football Team, '23-'25; Business Mgr. Creek Pebbles, '27; Business Mgr. Dramatic Club, '26; Class Secretary, '25-'27; Eu Secretary, '25-'26; Eu President, '27.

Because of his business ability, Spencer is kept working, but he is never too busy to enjoy a joke or a social.

LUNA BRADY, Sappho
 Wilmington, N. C.

Dramatic Club, '26; Basket Ball Squad, '27; Music Club, '26, '27; Art Editor for Annual, '27; Campus Editor for Creek Pebbles, '27.

If there's fun in life, Luna finds it and brings it to us in her cheery smile. She's always happy and makes others so.

HARRY CARTER
 Wallace, N. C.

Dramatic Club, '26, '27; Captain Class Basket Ball Team, '27.

"Sleepy" is a pleasant, witty and big-hearted fellow. He has won countless friends during his stay with us.

LAURIE M. CAVENAUGH, En.
 Forest City, N. C.

Class Marshal, '27; Track Squad, '27; Class Basket Ball, '27.

In the few months Laurie has been with us, we have found him to be a consistent worker, and of him we would say, "He is a true gentleman."

MARGARET DUNCAN, Sappho
 Blue's Creek, N. C.

Secretary Dramatic Club, '26; Society Representative Mid-term, '26.

She has won a circle of friends by her sweet disposition and friendly smile. In Margaret we find a faithful and loyal pal.

ROSA EDWARDS, Sappho
 Winston-Salem, N. C.

President Society, '26; Religious Editor Creek Pebbles, '26; President Dramatic Club, '26; Sappho Improvement Medal, '23; Loyalty Medal, '25; Booster Medal, '26; Intermediate B. Y. P. U. Leader, '25-'27; Vice-President Class, '27; Graduate in Expression, '27.

Unselfishness is Rosa's greatest asset. Her desire to be of service, and her cheerfulness, have endeared her to all.

OSCAR FUQUAY

Lillington, N. C.

Everyone has a good word for Oscar. He's a good sport, and has a great many friends here.

HOWARD GARDNER, Phi.

Angier, N. C.

Varsity Basket Ball, '26-'27.

The tide of many a game has been turned by his good plays, and his class records are good, too. He is a true gentleman.

JESSIE HENDERSON, Phi.

Pembroke, N. C.

Treasurer Dramatic Club, '26.

Jessie would sell his birthright for enough apparatus to set up a telegraph line to Carey Olive's room. He has a scientific turn of mind that may win him fame.

DELLA LILLIAN HOBSON, Supho

Yadkinville, N. C.

President Society, '26; Supervisor Society, '25; Dramatic Club, '27; Secretary Y. W. A., '25; Graduate in Expression, '27.

Your presence has been a pleasure, Della, and as a student you have been self-reliant in your convictions. "Good luck" to you.

VASCO JACKSON, Phi.

Dunn, N. C.

He is not an athlete, but his quiet and pleasing personality makes everyone like him. We predict a bright future for "Peanut."

MARY HERNDON KIVETTE

Buie's Creek, N. C.

Member Creek Pebbles Staff, '26; Basket Ball Manager, '26; Class Historian, '27.

We have found a friend and a pal in Mary and will miss her jolly personality long after we leave Campbell College.

MILDRED KIVETTE

Buie's Creek, N. C.

Community Editor Creek Pebbles, '26.

Always smiling and ready to encourage, sometimes studying—that's Mildred.

CONSTANCE JONES MIDKIFF, Saphio

Mount Airy, N. C.

Manager Basket Ball, '26-'27; President Y. W. A., '27; Editor-in-Chief Creek Pebbles, '27; Volunteer Band, '26.

In "Commie" we find a girl whose friendship is true as steel. She will never fail you, and to her school she has given loyalty, love and service.

DESMOND MORRIS, Phi

Sunbury, N. C.

President Ministerial Conference, '27; B. Y. P. U. President, '26.

Morris, though a persistent and earnest worker in classes and other things, has found time to take part in outside activities. He is liked by all who know him.

ESTHER MOON, Astro

Franklinville, N. C.

Reciter's Medal, '26; Society Representative, Mid-term '26; Chaplain Society, '26; Exchange Editor Creek Pebbles, '27; Senior Editor Pine Burr, '27.

A thorough student with a keen sense of humor, an entertaining reader, a lover of sports, and with it all a childish innocence that endears her to all.

WILLIAM REXIE MCGHEE, Eu.
Angier, N. C.

Class Prophet, '27; Declaimer, '25; Orator, '20; President of Eu Society, '20.

The students are all glad to have known Rexie, for he's truly a "likable" fellow and a loyal classmate.

AUDREY O'BRIAN, Astro.
Oxford, N. C.

Secretary Society, '26; President Society, '27; Music Club, '24-'25.

Living in a quiet way yet making everyone love her for her own self. That's Audrey!

GORDON K. OGBURN, Eu.
Raleigh, N. C.

President of Dramatic Club, '27; Class Basket Ball, '27; Chorister Eu. Society, '20.

Though he's been here but a year, his willingness to help, his loyalty and sincerity, have won for him many lasting friends.

CAREY HENDERSON OLIVE, Eu.
Chapel Hill, N. C.

Commencement Orator, '27; Sport Editor Creek Pebbles, '20; English Critic Society, '20.

The chemistry laboratory is his shrine. He can do whatever he sets his heart on, but you needn't try to urge him.

ALTON WALKER O'QUINN, Eu.
Mamers, N. C.

Varsity Basket Ball, '26; Manager Basket Ball Team, '27.

In sports Walker is always a clean player and a hard fighter, and he has a good scholastic record.

LYNDA O'QUINN, Astro
Manners, N. C.

Supervisor Society, '27; Astro Improvement Medal, '26; Basket Ball Team, '25-'27; Captain Basket Ball Team, '27.

Does she have pep? Look on the basket ball score book. Then look in the hearts of the students and teachers, and you'll find Lynda's name is written just as often.

WILLIE O'QUINN, Astro
Manners, N. C.

Vice-President Society, '26; Basket Ball Team, '25-'27; Dramatic Club, '26-'27; Art Club, '26-'27.

Some would call "Bill" pretty; others would say she is "cute"; but to those who know her well, she is both of these; and kind, loving, sincere, too.

CLAUDE E. POPE, Eu
Dunn, N. C.

President Senior Class, '26-'27; President Menogram Club, '27; President Eu. Society, '25; Dramatic Club, '26-'27; Manager Track, '26; Captain Football Team, '25-'26; Athletic Medal, '26.

Unassuming by nature, our president has won first place among us by his persistent efforts, courage, and manhood.

IRMA DEW RAY, Suprho
Raleigh, N. C.

Secretary Society, '26; President Society, '27; Cheer Leader, '26-'27; Dramatic Club, '26-'27; Tennis Club, '27.

When Irma leads the yells at a football game, our team must "get there"; when she picks the "uke" we must sing; and she touches our heart strings the same way, for Irma's our pal!

JAMES ALBERT ROUSE, Phi
Seven Springs, N. C.

Society President, '26; Class Basket Ball Team, '26.

He has been a conscientious, reliable worker, and takes an active part in outside activities.

MACK SATTERWHITE, Phi.

St. Pauls, N. C.

Football Squad, '24-'26; Anniversary Debate, '27; B. Y. P. U. President, '27.

Mack is happy when he's helping Miss Moon's girls or serving his friends. He's a friend worth having.

VEIGH SHERMER, Sappho

Yadkinville, N. C.

Dramatic Club, '27; Supervisor Society, '26; Secretary of B. Y. P. U., '27.

As a friend, Veigh, you have been reliable and true. In your own quiet way you have made life happier for us.

EDITH STEPHENSON, Sappho

Willow Springs, N. C.

Music Club, '26-'27; Athletic Club, '25-'26.

We don't go by what she says, for her words are few, but what she is has won for her the hearts of all Campbellites.

LARRY R. STOX, Eu.

Greenville, N. C.

Member Orchestra, '26-'27.

Quiet about himself, but always ready to boost the other fellow. He has quite a bit of talent for playing the "fiddle."

PATRICK TART, Phi.

Newton Grove, N. C.

Takes his time,
A-r-rives just the same,
R-reaches the top,
T-tries hard always.

JOHN ODELL WALTON, Phi.

Salisbury, N. C.

President of Ministerial Conference, '26; President of B. Y. P. U. Section, '27; President of Society, '25; Graduate in Voice, '27.

He has a soul for music, both vocal and instrumental, and can even coax harmony from a "uke." He is always ready for a joke but is nevertheless a good worker.

KATE WELLS, Sappho

Yadkinville, N. C.

Bright—But not like the sun,
Intelligent—But not like a scholar,
Winner—But not like a flapper.
That's our Kate!

CLAIBORNE C. YOUNG, Fu.

Durham, N. C.

Supervisor Society, '26; Business Manager Annual, '27; Varsity Basketball, '25, '26, '27; Manager Varsity Football, '26-'27; Vice-President Durham County Club, '27.

Claiborne has proved to be a good student as well as a great athlete. He has made many friends during his stay here and is sure to make more wherever he goes.

W. ROYSTER YOUNG, Eu.

Angier, N. C.

Athletic Editor Annual, '27; Testator Senior Class, '27; Dramatic Club, '26; Class Basket Ball, '27; Representative to Duke University in Declamers Contest, '27.

With his high ideals and good scholastic record, Royster is sure to bring honor to his Alma Mater.

Senior Class Poem

*The sun is setting slowly
Upon our school career;
We've almost reached the goal we sought;
The time is drawing near.*

*The bell is tolling softly,
The sad commencement bell;
With heavy hearts we come to bid
Our friends a sad farewell.*

*And you, beloved teachers,
You, too, we've learned to love;
You've taught us how to always press
To noble heights above.*

*Regretfully we leave you,
Our friends and classmates here,
But always we will think of you,
And hold your memory dear.*

— POET.

Senior Class History

FOUR years ago a group of fifty adventuring young pioneers gathered at Buie's Creek to begin the long and tiresome journey to the land of Diploma. After two days of registration and classification, we found ourselves ready for the journey.

At first we were surprised and somewhat angered that our instructors seemed not to be impressed by our abundance of knowledge. A little later we found that we did not know so much after all and that blazing a trail through the land of "Fresh" wasn't as easy as one might expect.

After a year's journey we found ourselves in the land of Sophomore. As the result of the monstrous journey a few of our pioneers—the weak ones, of course—had dropped by the wayside. Their absence was not so noticeable, because a few more ambitious lads and lassies had joined us.

The end of another year found us entering the terrible wilds of Junior. This land, as we had long ago heard, was ruled by the barbarous seniors. As soon as we entered their kingdom we were besieged, captured, and made slaves by the terrible seniors. Their word was order, and we hastened to do their commands. Under these conditions and in this land we were held for a whole long year. The first half of the year passed very lightly, but in the spring term our supplies began to give out, and money was needed, for we had heard in some mysterious way that the seniors expected a banquet. As our last resort we called on "Deacon Dubbs" to help us out. Of course, the "Deacon" was a great success. The people flocked twice to see him. Money was raised and we felt greatly relieved. About the first of May we learned that our captors were leaving their kingdom for "Graduation." Our songs and farewells must have melted their hard hearts, for they willed to us the kingdom of Senior.

Now the last and hardest year of our pioneer life is over. They call us dignified seniors. By the teaching and pushing of our instructors we have squeezed into "diplomatom."

No history of our class would be complete without a brief resume of the various high school activities in which our members have taken part. Claude Pope, our president, for two years was captain of the football team. Three members of the Boys' Varsity Basket Ball Team were seniors, while on the girls' team we found five seniors. Neither are we lacking in talent in Dramatics. Two of our members are graduating from that department. When the best declaimer was chosen to go to Duke this year he was found in our class. Our class has contributed a large number of writers for the literary staffs of both Creek Pebbles and Pine Burr. One of our members wrote our senior play.

To those who have guided our footsteps along the path of knowledge, who have grieved with us in our misfortunes and rejoiced in our successes, we would pay our farewell tribute.

Now it is with heavy hearts that we come to the parting of our ways. But we realize that the time has come to say farewell to those who have become dear to us in our school life, and that the world is calling us to nobler and greater things.

—HISTORIAN.

Senior Class Song

*If in future days the shadows fall,
And we turn our minds to you,
Dear high school days, we then shall say,
Your days were good and true.*

CHORUS

*"Our daisy fair will love us here
And shed its perfumed dew,
O'er all our dreams, through all our schemes
And help us brave and true."*

*We will think once more of memories sweet
And crave your days to greet;
We then shall know, if not before,
Your days were true and sweet.*

*If coming years are dazed with tears,
And dreams all prove in vain,
We'll cast a glow where'er we go,
From mem'ry's golden lane.*

- J. O. W.

Class Prophecy

"EXPERIENCE is the best teacher." But I found that being a perpetual member of the senior class has nothing to do with unraveling the perplexities of the future. For a time I waited patiently for the gods of fate to reveal the various and sundry fortunes of the members of the class of '27; but conjuring seemed a lost art. Even a prolonged visit to the Orient failed to give me the proper inspiration.

Notwithstanding all these unprofitable attempts, I was destined to write the prophecy of the class of '27 on the night of February 13. Before retiring, on this eventful night, I had worked my mind into a fanatic state, studying the play, "Macbeth." In the solemn hours of the night I was greeted by the phrase, "All hail, MacGhee." Aroused by the insidious sound of the voices, I beheld there in my room, by the rays of the street light through my window, the three weird sisters, ugly hags just as seen by Macbeth, dancing around the charmed pot, adding ingredients which at my command unlocked the future of my classmates twenty-one years hence, in 1948.

In visions of wealth and poverty, nobility and humbleness, happiness and sorrow, beyond the power of words to describe, I saw what the hand of fate decreed, and I here record imperfectly some of the things I discovered that night.

In the gubernatorial election of 1948, Hon. Royster Young, Republican, defeated Hon. S. R. Blanchard, Democrat, by an overwhelming majority and his administration soon became noted for his progressive ideas.

Mildred and Mary Kivette, and Willie O'Quinn, after making vast fortunes as movie actresses, gave to their old Alma Mater one-third of the interest on their money for one year, which amounts to $500,000 each.

During the eventful year 1948, the following were listed in Who's Who in America, as members of the faculty of Campbell University; Audrey O'Brian, Professor of Latin Language and Literature; Carey Olive, Professor of Bacteriology; Gordon K. Ogburn, Dean of Law; and Oscar Fuquay, Professor of Mathematics.

Irma Ray was still working for her M. R. S. degree.

Because of her early experience, Esther Moon succeeds her sister as Dean of Women at the University.

With a genius for scientific agriculture, William Adams, assisted by his tenant, Burt Holland, revolutionized the cotton-growing industry in the south by producing a puncture-healing fluid for cotton bolls.

Ned Ball, as was predicted during high school days, married Constance Midkiff, and settled down in Raleigh to play the rôle of a hen-pecked husband.

Rosa Edwards filled a large place in the world, ministering to the unfortunate Africans.

Claude Pope won nation-wide admiration as a football coach, producing a team at Wake Forest that won the Southern championship in 1918.

"Progress depends largely on science." As a result, Everett Baker and W. D. Morris were employed to transport sunshine from the equator to the palm trees and banana orchards at the North Pole.

J. O. Walton was called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Raleigh, where he carried on his good work for the rest of his long and eventful life.

J. A. Rouse, on account of his usefulness as an attorney, was appointed Secretary of Agriculture under the administration of President L. M. Cavanaugh.

In a town election of 1940, Howard Gardner was elected mayor of the city of Angier by a majority of 4782 votes.

"True love never runs cold"; this explains why Elizabeth Aysenc survived through a honeymoon to northern Alaska.

Carlyle Harmon, Rear-Admiral in the United States Navy, was called to the Gulf of Mexico with his fleet to prevent a Mexican attack on our Southern ports.

Ambitions are often formed during high school days. As a result, Walker O'Quinn and Claiborne Young are successful in their campaign to abolish the teaching of Latin from the High Schools of North Carolina.

Vasco Jackson made a fortune from the sale of his Cicero Jack, superior to those which were used during his high school days, because it answers all of Miss Powell's "Why," as well as translating the Latin.

Luna Brady and Lourae Austin, after repeated unsuccessful attempts to launch out on the sea of matrimony, decided that all men are hateful, and settled down to be old-maid school teachers.

After many serious altercations with their respective husbands, Veigh Shermer, Della Hobson, and Kate Wells presented to the Legislature of North Carolina, through their representative, Larry Stox, a bill demanding that the word "obey" be stricken from the marriage ceremony.

Lynda O'Quinn was still wondering "how to get hold on a husband."

At this juncture the scene changed from my native state to South Carolina. Jesse Henderson was appointed Superintendent of Public Instruction in that state in 1948.

Harry Carter and Patrick Tart were appointed Head Coach and Assistant Coach, respectively, of Furman University in 1938.

Edith Stephenson led her classmates in accomplishments by receiving the honor of being the most useful woman in South Carolina.

At this moment of great expectancy the three weird sisters, like airy nothing, rose and vanished, leaving me in a state of deep confusion. As they left, I made a faltering attempt to ask about my own fate; but they only replied, "Class prophets sink into oblivion after examination!"

— PROPHECY.

Last Will and Testament

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
County of Harnett.

WE, the High School Seniors of Campbell College, this 18th day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, being of sound mind and sounder bodies, do make and declare this our last will and testament. We ask that our funeral services be conducted with all the dignity and pomp due to Seniors, and that the faculty, which used to appall us, be our pallbearers.

To Campbell College, our Alma Mater, in token of our gratitude to her, we leave a million dollar check on the Bank of our Good Will, hoping that some day the said check may be endorsed by some future millionaire from our goodly number.

In honor of our beloved President, Dr. Campbell, we do will and bequeath to the dining room a weekly supply of Campbell's tomato soup, and bear out whole-hearted testimony against the charges that he is any way connected with the production of Camel cigarettes.

We will to Prof. Marshbanks a brand new Ford car, to be built under special geometric conditions, cost to be extracted from the pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow.

To Prof. Leslie H. Campbell we extend our senior sympathy in his endeavor to provide classrooms for all classes, without the use of filling stations and drug stores.

To Miss Powell's incoming Latin classes we willingly bequeath our troupe of Latin ponies in the hope that they may win in the annual race with the teacher's goat.

We leave to Miss Allen's future French students the helpful hint that irregular students will find it quite profitable to study the irregular verbs.

To Miss Estelle Burt we will our silvery tongues and golden words, in the faith that she may supply them to rising Daniel Websters.

To the Junior Class, heirs of all our glory, we leave 13 3/4 shares of stock in our Midnight Oil, having ourselves found it the best kind to keep aflame the lamp of knowledge.

To the Sophomore class we leave the joyful promise of three more years of happy school-days.

We do constitute and appoint the President, Vice-President, and Dean as executors of this our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making null and void all other wills and testaments heretofore made by us; in testimony whereof we, the class of 1927, have, to this our last will and testament, subscribed our names, this the eighteenth day of May, Anno Domini, one thousand, nine hundred, and twenty-seven,

Signed: THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1927.

Attest: W. ROYSTER YOUNG, Testator.

CLAUDE POPE, President.

SPENCER BLANCHARD, Secretary.

JUNIORS

Junior Class Poem

*We the class of Juniors are,
Gathered here from near and far,
From all corners of the earth
Come we all and bring our mirth.*

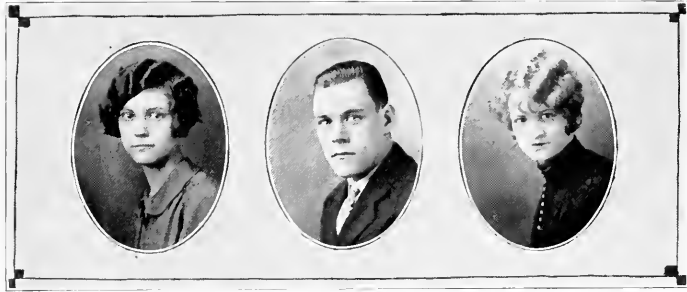

*Many the joys that we have known,
Many the joys and many the groan;
But as we review these things,
We like the jolts that schooltime brings.*

*We have always tried to hold
The traditions fixed of old
Those which gained for us the place
Which we hold in life's great race.*

*We have tried to place on high
As our motto: "Do or die."
We have faced our work like men,
And we know that we will win.*

JUNIOR CLASS

Junior Class History

THE air was electric with excitement. The great dirigible, "The Freshman," pulled at its ropes back of the hangar; the Buie's Creek Academy crowds had gathered to see the start of the most promising crew that ever trained on an airship.

On the deck the crew raced about in a mad endeavor to be ready when the whistle blew. The class made a fruitless attempt to bring order out of chaos.

The signal was given; the last rope, untied; and amid the shouts and farewells of the assembled multitude, the good dirigible, on the thirty-first of August, in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-four, rose steadily outward in the first lap of the journey over the land of B. C. A.

The first year was disturbed by few trials, save when some few deserted at the time of final exams. The sailing had been so fine that when the pilot received a command to go back to the hangar, where the ship was to have a few repairs made, the crew reluctantly obeyed.

After three months of preparation in a more powerful dirigible, we arose in our second flight towards the clouds of graduation. The speed of the ship was slowed down several times to allow the crew to witness a number of battles, in which they often took part.

The third lap of the journey was made in the world-renowned "Junior" dirigible, famed for its magnitude and potentialities. After a week or more of sailing we were glad to hear the much longed-for news, Buie's Creek Junior College was to move into her new building. The sky was clear, and after having our name changed to Campbell College, we landed in a country that seemed a veritable garden of bells, music, happiness, and flowers. The crew then fairly gasped at the beauty of the scene.

Then the sunny country passed, and a dark cloud hovered, and a gale broke. The ship was tossed about by terrific winds, and a great hole was rent in the canvas. In the confusion and terror of darkness, some were lost. Slowly the sky cleared and we sailed away from the "land of mid-term exams," feeling like conquerors because we had stuck to our ship.

This ended the third lap, and, taking an inventory of faces of the faithful who had stood staunch and firm, we recorded them in the book that shall forever bear the record of this remarkable journey. Our eyes are now fixed on the senior voyage that looms out before us, and though the future may look formidable, still the experience of the past three years will guide us to that lofty pinnacle from which floats the most coveted of all possessions—the "Diploma."

Sophomore Class Poem

*In "25" we assembled here
 Entering upon our Freshman year,
 We felt so very weak and small,
 With no significance at all.*

*We had a goal, it was shining far,
 We'd hitched our wagon to a star,
 The days no longer were dark and drear,
 We knew our Sophomore days were near.*

*In "26" with laughter and shout
 Glad that our Freshman year was out,
 We came to be Juniors with pomp and pride,
 Happy that we the "Freshies" could guide.*

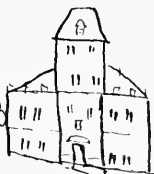

*Some members were lost on the Sophomore sea,
 The goal was farther than it seemed to be,
 As Juniors we stand at an open gate
 Wondering what is to be our fate.*

Philologian Literary Society

Motto: "VICI."

Colors: PEA GREEN AND OLD ROSE

IN the early years of Buic's Creek Academy, many day-dreams and air castles were formulated in the minds of God-fearing men. Among the first of these to take form was the vision of a great stream of orators and public speakers flowing down the little "Creek" to be scattered to the four corners of the earth. This vision originated in the mind of Professor H. F. Page and took form in the Philologian Literary Society. Thus began the collection of talent which is today the goal of all our societies.

All down through the years the Philologian Spirit has been one of unselfishness. Anxiously does she give of her best to the young men who come to her bosom from year to year. Her ambition is to fill every soul with the power of words, either by her personal touch or by friendly rivalry. Her sons, who are found in many of the leading places in almost every vocation of life, are touching the lives literally of thousands. Her influence is multiplying by geometric progression, and she shall never cease to strive for the betterment of young manhood and the glory of Campbell College.

AIM: "We study that we may serve."

In the early part of September, 1926, a part of the student body of Campbell College, under the capable leadership of Mr. G. D. Danner, banded themselves together in re-organizing a General B. Y. P. U. This General B. Y. P. U. had four Senior Unions, each having fifteen members; and also one Intermediate Union with a membership of twenty-eight. At once the B. Y. P. U. began its activities, and like the Literary societies and athletic teams, is a vital part of our school life. We now have enrolled one hundred and fifty young people. The Onward Union, with H. M. Hocutt as presiding officer, grew so rapidly that it had to be divided. The new union is now known as "Be Square."

A B. Y. P. U. cannot be really active until each member has a knowledge of B. Y. P. U. methods—each must be an informed member. In order to have such members we have had to give several study courses. Last fall Mrs. Bonsteel taught a class; and since then has given several examinations to new members as they have joined. In January Mr. Perry Morgan and Miss Winnie Rickett, State B. Y. P. U. workers, came over to teach our training classes; they were assisted by Mr. Marshbanks, Mr. Ayscue, and Mrs. Bonsteel. Both the faculty and student body were loyal in attending the classes, most of whom took the examinations and passed with a good grade. To Dr. Campbell, our pastor, and to our other friends we wish to express our deep gratitude for the interest shown and for the efforts exerted to make our B. Y. P. U. a success.

While we have been studying, we have not neglected the extension work altogether. Among us are those who teach Sunday School classes, who help some pastor, and who in many ways give personal service to uphold the standards of Christ and to promote B. Y. P. U. Some are wide awake during the vacation months, at which time much of our extension work is done. The training had here in the B. Y. P. U. leads on to broader service.

Just as man has a religious nature to train and develop, so does he have a social nature that craves association. In our organization, this side of man's nature is not forgotten. Our young people have had socials each quarter, which all seemed to enjoy. However, in all the functions of the B. Y. P. U. the leaders have tried not to lose sight of our real purpose, which is to train young Christians to be consecrated, helpful, loyal church members.

OUR RECORD

THE large number of new girls that assembled on our campus at the beginning of this school year gave to the old Y. W. A. members an enthusiasm unsurpassed. While getting organized in our other activities we line up on the Y. W. A. work with a determination to make this the best year in the history of the organization. The new members seemed to catch the Y. W. A. spirit in the first meeting, and it is still one of the most prevalent spirits that pervades our campus. Miss Moon, our counsellor, has been an advisor and helper who has meant much to the success of the work in the last two years.

During the fall term it was our great privilege to have Miss Dorothy Kellam, Young People's leader, to spend a week with us. During her visit she taught The Stewardship of Life, the result of which has been the organization of a Tithers' Band having thirty-four members. This band is a great contribution to the religious life of our campus.

The big project of the year has been the establishing of a tea room on the campus. By so doing we have kept our treasury supplied, and our personal service report blank in good shape. In addition to the financial help it brings, the girls find it a fine place to spend their times while enjoying a few minutes together.

Practically every girl in the dormitory is an active member of the Y. W. A., and the joy of our work here together will be abundant indeed when our members scatter again during vacation, and start new Y. W. A.'s in their home churches.

Football, 1926

THE young Junior College approached a hard schedule in 1926 with very little experienced material. Coach Martin and his assistants found plenty of raw material with a will to fight, but it took the major portion of the season to develop teamwork and a fundamental knowledge of the game.

While the season presented several disappointments, it nevertheless was not without its bright lights. Victories over the Elon Reserves and Fort Bragg cheered the local supporters. But the victory over the strong Wingate Junior College team was regarded as the greatest achievement of the season.

Basket Ball, 1927

Starting with only two letter men, Coach Brandon was left to develop a new system of play out of green material. With a hard schedule, consisting of two college freshmen teams, and strong independent teams, our record of seventeen victories out of twenty games is undoubtedly the best athletic record ever made in this school.

Girls' Basket Ball Squad

OUR RECORD

The girls' basket ball team this year took a place in the school activities that it has never had before. The first two games left us blue over defeat, but with these losses as incentives, we lined up for ten consecutive victories.

Captain O'Quinn set a pace as forward in the beginning of the season that her closest rival could not approach. She scored 156 of the 273 points made during the season. Helen Gurgamus followed with 76, and Elizabeth Ayscue, center, tossed in 41. Elizabeth stood alone when it came to passing the ball. The guarding of the Taylor sisters and Willie O'Quinn held down the score of the opposing team while Campbell College climbed to the top. The faithfulness of the subs meant much toward giving us the best team in the history of the school thus far.

THE TRUE ATMOSPHERE of SCHOOL and COLLEGE

WE endeavor, in producing school annuals, to render a helpful and constructive service directed toward enabling a student staff to get out a representative, distinctive book within their budget.

In connection with our new and modern printing plant we maintain a large Art and Service Department where page borders, cover designs, division pages, and complete decorative and illustrative motifs are created and worked out.
